SENIOR PLAY AT
T. N. S. TONIGHT

Normal Graduates to Present "Fanny Solving the Servant Problem"

This is one of the big days in history for the seniors of the Tempe Normal for the annual class play will be presented tonight at the auditorium and already enough tickets have been sold to insure at least five hundred people seeing how "Fanny Solves the Servant Problem." Probably several hundred more than this will be present and there is a possibility that the attendance will reach the best record yet that was established by the class of 1915 when "The Gentleman From Mississippi" was staged. Tonight's play is being given under the direction of Prof. George M. Frizell and from the success that his former offerings have scored, there is no doubting that "Fanny Solving the Servant Problem" will be a big hit. The cast was well chosen and the members have labored hard to make good.

The characters in the play are:
Fanny—Miss Elizabeth MacKeen.
Vernon Wetherell, Lord Bantock—Kenneth MacLennan.
Martin Bennet, her butler—Herbert J. Enderston.
Suzannah Bennet, her housekeeper—Miss Myrtle Cordes.
Jane Bennet, her maid—Miss Alice Kalght.
Ernest Bennet, second footman—Grant Laney.

Honoria Bennet, still-room maid—Miss Lucille Mortenson.
The Misses Wetherell, aunts by marriage—Miss Lucille Peterson, Miss Hazel Vestry.
Dr. Freeman, her local doctor—Harry Steel.
George P. Newte, her business manager—Henry L. Hilbers.

JULY 3-4 SET FOR
MESA CELEBRATION

July 3rd and 4th, have been set as the date of a big preparedness celebration. It had been intended to have this occur on May 30, but the committee met yesterday afternoon and decided that the time is too short to make the necessary arrangements. These two days will be a combined Fourth of July and National Preparedness event. At yesterday's meeting the committee of twelve men appointed sub-committees one each on finance, program, advertising, parade, decoration, sports and safety. 7:30 was set aside for preliminary advertising and the committee arranged to invite the other towns adjacent to join and make it a memorable demonstration of the attitude of the valley on the question of national preparedness. Chairman of the various committees are as follows: finance, Geo. Johnson; program, Geo. Irvin; advertising, W. R. Stewart; parade, Dr. Nelson; decorations, M. P. Holladay; sports, J. Cummar; safety, Dr. Palmer.

LAWN SOCIAL

A cluster of members of the Tuck-atache class of the Methodist Sunday school and their friends gathered on the lawn of the church last evening and enjoyed a splendid supper and a general good time.

BOYS HAVE BEEN BUSY

The Boy Scouts have been very busy all spring digging the swimming pool on which they set their hearts last winter. The excavation is now complete and bids have been received for the cement work. The pool will hold 24000 gallons of water, making it one of the largest artificial swimming places in the state. It is the intention of the boys to have the pool open to the public a portion of the time with competent attendants. A rigid rule will be enforced as to the character of the bathers.

APPRECIATION MAY RIDE

The members of the Stake Choir, who under the direction of Prof. W. Hanson recently put on the opera, "Chimes of Normandy," went on a hay ride to the river last evening. The occasion was the departure of Prof. Hanson who leaves today for a summer's stay in his home town, Vernal, Utah. About fifty people were in the party. Mr. Hanson has done some very effective work in promoting the development of musical talent during his stay in Mesa and he will be welcomed heartily on his return.

LUKIN BEATS
FINCH, TEMPEMunicipal Election Resolves
Itself into Contest Between Independent and
Member of Citizen's Ticket;
New Men Are in

(Special to The Republican)

TEMPE, May 22.—The municipal election in Tempe today developed into a race between G. R. Finch on the citizen's ticket and W. Lukin running independently for membership to the council and Lukin won the election by a margin of fourteen votes. The balance of the citizen's ticket was elected without opposition and generally there was little interest manifest in the election.

Finch was the only member of the present council who was running for re-election. L. D. Crook, J. A. Dines, T. J. Goodwin, L. V. Stewart and Lukin are all new men though several of them have served at different times as aldermen some years ago. M. C. Broening, the present city marshal and no opposition for re-election and L. E. Pafford, running for clerk was without competition for the office.

A total of 216 ballots were cast during the course of the day and the results were as follows:

Citizens ticket for councilman:
L. D. Crook	144
J. A. Dines	194
G. R. Finch	115

RICKENBACHER NOT
SHAKEN BY WRECK
ON N. Y. SPEEDWAY

Gave Rare Example of Nerve Driving When Limberg's Car Went Over, Will Race Just the Same

(Special to The Republican)

INDIANAPOLIS, May 22.—Eddie Rickenbacher probably had the most sensational escape ever experienced since automobile racing began, at the New York Speedway recently, when Rickenbacher's Delage car crashed into the outer retaining fence at the upper edge of the board oval, throwing him and his mechanic out to their death, and sending the car in a mass of flames rolling down the entire width of the track. Rickenbacher was coming at a speed better than 100 miles per hour. There was no time to delay, the shock at the sight of his rivals being suddenly hurled through the air was enough to shatter the nerve control of the most hardy individual. The wrecked Delage broke in two as it rolled down the track, adding to the difficulties of dodging it. It all happened so quickly that the brains of those who witnessed the tragedy could hardly register it. Rickenbacher did a rare piece of skillful driving, keeping a cool head in an extraordinary crisis, and shot his white car through the smoke and flames between the two broken sections of the wreck. There were still 129 miles of the race to be run before Rickenbacher could relax and rest from the shock. He won with the car he will drive at Indianapolis Speedway May 30, and reports that he is none the worse from the hazardous experience. "It's all part of the game," he said as though dismissing the subject from his mind, but his close friends say he is deeply moved by the loss of his friend and race rival. It is said the late Bob Burman, when in Indianapolis preparing for this year's speedway race, declared Rickenbacher to be America's greatest race driver. Burman lost his life at Corona race a short time ago. Both he and Limberg were entered at Indianapolis. This makes eight drivers who were seen on the Indianapolis track last year that have been killed since then.

Begin to Get Line on Drivers
Since the New York Speedway race the dopsters begin to get a better line of the various drivers and can now dope out about what can be expected at the big event in Indianapolis May 29th. Josef Christians, with his Sunbeam from England took no chances at New York, but gave up his car for the Indianapolis classic. Eddie O'Donnell, who has set his heart upon winning the Indianapolis race, did not even start at New York. Barney Oldfield, who swears he will win the Indianapolis race kept out of the New York event entirely. Dario Resta started at New York, but did not overwork his car, conserving it for the 200-mile contest at Indianapolis. John Aitken won the twenty mile race at New York, but did so without pushing his Peugeot. He has made that distance in eleven minutes flat, which is faster than the time in which he won the race. It is very evident that all the drivers were not overtaxing

TRUTH
in Advertising

Who would go to a ball-game if he knew that the pitchers were bought and sold? Or to a horse-race if he knew it to be a fake? A pugilist who hits foul not only loses the fight but is hooted as a coward. Even a gambler worthy the name is too proud to cheat. Shall we exact honesty in our sports and even in our dissipations but condone dishonesty in the more fiduciary relationships of business? "Trader," "traitor," "traitor"—these are the same word; shall we give them the same meaning? Of course not. Business is becoming cleaner and fairer every day. There are a thousand honest business men to one who is intentionally dishonest. Honest business can compel honest business, and is bound to do so or go down in the struggle.

In my correspondence with several of your officers I have noticed on your club stationery the emblem which you have adopted as a sort of sign-manual or coat-of-arms. I saw that it was a miniature map of the world, a true microcosm, across which in letters meant to be seven thousand miles high—for they were the full diameter of the earth—you had superposed the one word—TRUTH. As I curiously studied the symbolism of this design, I became aware that all sorts of emotions were thronging my heart, whose beating was as syncopated as my thoughts. For here was I in the presence of a Purpose, clean, brave, wholesome, divine—a purpose wider than the earth, for it reached to the stars and laid hold on Heaven.

Do you mean it? Is it your pledge—your consecration? Is that word Truth written on your foreheads and in your hearts as well as in your heraldry? Is it your purpose to work for it, fight for it, live for it, and if needs be die for it? Then have you founded a Brotherhood nobler than that of Arthur and his Round Table, for their search for the grail was after all but romantic chivalry; greater than the Crusaders, for their purpose was revenge. You have appropriated to yourselves the supreme, consummate word of all speech, for Truth is the holiest name of God—holier even than Love, for love is absorbed in it. Do you know what you have done? You have called to witness the whole broad earth, over which Truth hath thrown her baldric like a cloth of gold.

With Truth on your banner in the militant cause of business honesty your great club is likely to become the chief protagonist, for you strike at the poisoned heart of dishonest business, namely, dishonest advertising.

On your own initiative, without legal compulsion and with no other urge than the innate promptings of high-toned and honorable gentlemen, you have undertaken to rid all our newspapers and periodicals of untrue, unclean and dishonest advertisements. It seems to me that you have already gained your victory, and henceforth have only to guard the fruits of it, for recently, out of sheer curiosity, I examined as many newspapers and magazines as I could lay hands on just to see if I could find in them those old alluring blandishments, ranging from the quack doctor to the quackest oracle of fate; but there was nothing doing—everything as clean as a hound's tooth and as wholesome as sunshine.

This article is one of a series to advertise advertising by the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World. It is part of an inspiring speech, delivered before the Eleventh Annual Convention of the Associated Clubs at Chicago, by the

NO VOTES FOR WOMEN

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]

WASHINGTON, May 22.—While the house was sitting as a committee of the whole today with hardly a hundred members on the floor, Republican Leader Mann offered an amendment to the Porto Rican government reorganization bill, which would permit women of the island to vote. It was adopted, 60 to 37, but the democrats are prepared to strike it out tomorrow on a roll call vote in the house. Debate on the bill was completed tonight.

TO GRANT HOME RULE

LONDON, May 22.—According to the Evening Standard, influences are working for a settlement of the Irish question by granting home rule at the earliest possible moment with clean cut exclusion of Ulster. In the interim, the newspaper says, the premier may propose a temporary government and advisory board consisting of Irishmen belonging to both parties.
